

John F. Fulton Foundation Mission Statement

Cancer is something that affects everyone; whether it is a family member or a friend who is fighting, fought or has passed from cancer. Cancer has taken the strongest people we know, and stripped them down to their weakest parts. John F. Fulton Sr. battled a deadly form of cancer called multiple myeloma; and for this reason, the John F. Fulton Foundation was founded. Our goal as a foundation is to raise money that will go directly to the Multiple Myeloma Research Foundation, in order to help them conduct more research and help their funding; so that one day we will be able to see a world that is cancer free. The money raised will allow this foundation to find more comfortable and convenient ways to treat multiple myeloma patients, so that they may live a happier life while dealing with this fatal disease. We will see a cure to cancer in our lifetime, and with your help and support we can help the Multiple Myeloma Research Foundation take strides to further their research into this illness. We should not live in a world where we fear the word cancer; and one day we won't. Your support is needed to help us achieve this goal; every dollar is another step towards a cancer free world.

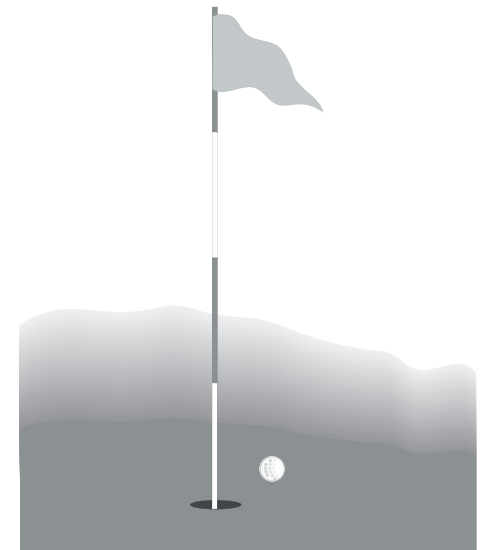

Thank you.

John F. Fulton Foundation

On any typical Sunday, you would find John Fulton sitting on the couch, watching golf; and if you happen to forget where he was on a Monday, chances are he was at a golf outing. In May 2006, John Fulton was diagnosed with multiple myeloma, a deadly form of cancer. Even when he couldn't go outside, he would still watch golf, and became a pro at playing golf games on the Wii. Soon enough, he was out on the course again, and in the summer of 2009, he broke 100. Unfortunately, cancer did not care how much John Fulton Sr. had accomplished; on August 27, 2009 he lost his battle with cancer. Huntington lost a great man that day, and we continue to celebrate his life through the John F. Fulton Foundation. Our foundation aims to raise money to donate to the Multiple Myeloma Research Foundation, which has pursued new developments into the treatment of multiple myeloma, so that patients can live longer, happier lives and one day hear the words, "you are cancer free." We will see a cure to cancer in our lifetime, and in memory of John Fulton, we are holding a charity golf outing, as this is how John would want us to remember him. He was not only an avid golf player, but a friend to all, a great father, loving husband, brother, mentor, and most importantly my best friend. I would like to invite you to join me at the Huntington Crescent Club, for a day filled with memories and golf, while we support a cause that we hope will one day cease to exist. Thank you for your continued support while we fight this life changing disease.
