The National Chapter's selection guides define these criteria as follows:

Scholarship: Any student who has completed at least sophomore year and has a cumulative grade point average of 90% or better.

A Planning List for Parents of Ninth- and 10th-Graders

It may seem early to start thinking about getting your child ready for college, but it really isn't — important groundwork should take place in ninth and 10th grades. Here's a list to help you make sure your child is on the right path.

GRADE 9

- 1. Create a four-year high school plan. Once your child is settled into ninth grade, introduce the idea of preparing an overall plan for high school that relates to their goals.
  - Make sure you and your child know what high school courses are required by colleges, and that their ninth-grade courses are on the right track.
  - Map out when these courses should be taken.
  - Familiarize yourself with the various levels of courses offered by your child's school.
- 2. Tell your child to start thinking about careers. Encourage your child to develop a tentative career goal. Of course it will change — often — but it's the thought process that counts.
  - Help your child to identify interests — likes and dislikes — not just in academics but in all areas. This will help your child focus on goals.
  - Encourage your child to discuss career options with others, such as the school counselor, teachers, recent college graduates who are working, professionals in the community, etc.
- 3. Suggest extracurricular activities. Encourage your child to actively take part in a sport, school club, music or drama group, or community volunteer activity.
  - If your child may want to play sports in college, research the National College Athletic Association eligibility requirements. The NCAA requires completion of certain core courses; you can find the specifics at www.eligibilitycenter.org.
- 4. Meet with the school counselor. The school counselor knows how to help your child get the most out of high school. Make sure your child has an opportunity during the school year to discuss post-high-school plans with the school counselor and map out courses to take during the rest of high school.
  - You should participate in this meeting, too.
- 5. Ask if the PSAT 8/9™ is offered to ninth-graders. The PSAT 8/9 will help you and your child's teachers figure out what your child needs to work on the most so that they're ready for college when they graduate from high school. It tests the same skills and knowledge as the SAT®, PSAT/NMSQT®, and PSAT™ 10 — in a way that makes sense for their grade level.
- 6. Save for college. It's still not too late to start a college savings plan, if you haven't already. Every little bit helps!
  - Investigate state financial aid programs and 529 plans.
- 7. Obtain a Social Security number for your child if you don't already have one. This is often required for applications, testing, scholarships, and other opportunities.

GRADE 10

1. Meet with the school counselor — again. Make sure your child meets with their school counselor to ensure that she or he is enrolled in college-preparatory courses.
  - Check to see that your child is taking any prerequisites to advanced-level junior- and senior-year courses.
2. Ask if the PSAT 10 or PSAT/NMSQT is offered to 10th-graders. While the PSAT/NMSQT is usually taken in the 11th grade, it is also often offered in the 10th. That's because it provides invaluable feedback on the student score report; 10th-graders can then work on any disclosed academic weaknesses while there is still ample time to improve them.
3. Is your child interested in attending a U.S. military academy? If so, they should request a precandidate questionnaire and complete it. Your school counselor can help with this.
4. Attend college and career fairs. These often take place in the fall at your school or in your area.
5. Support your child's participation in a school activity or volunteer effort. Extracurricular activities help students develop time-management skills and enrich the school experience.
6. Tour college campuses. If possible, take advantage of vacation or other family travel opportunities to visit colleges and see what they're like.
  - Even if there is no interest in attending the college you are visiting, it will help your child learn what to look for in a college.

Family Action Plan: 11th Grade

Junior year usually marks a turning point. This is because for most students and families, it's when college planning activities kick into high gear. Here are some things you can do this year to support your child and give him or her the best options.

SUMMER

- Get the facts about what college costs. You may be surprised by how affordable higher education can be. Start by reading Understanding College Costs.
- Explore financial aid options. These include grants and scholarships, loans, and work-study programs that can help pay for college costs. Find out more about how financial aid can make college affordable.

FALL

- Make sure your child meets with the school counselor. This meeting is especially important this year as your 11th-grader starts to engage in the college application process. Learn more about the counselor's role in applying to college.
- Help your child stay organized. Work with your 11th-grader to make weekly or monthly to-do lists to keep on top of the tasks required to get ready for applying to colleges. For more time management tips, see 8 Ways to Take Control of Your Time.
- Help your junior get ready for the PSAT/NMSQT® in October. This is a preliminary test that helps students practice for the SAT® and assess their academic skills. Juniors who score well on the test are also eligible for scholarship opportunities. Find out more about the PSAT/NMSQT.
- Encourage your child to set goals for the school year. Working toward specific goals helps your high school student stay motivated and focused.

WINTER

- Review PSAT/NMSQT results together by logging in to the student score reporting portal. Your child's score report shows what they should work on to get ready for college; lists Advanced Placement® courses that might be a good match for them; and connects them to free, personalized SAT practice on Khan Academy® based on their results.
- Help your child prepare for the SAT. Many juniors take the SAT in the spring so they can get a head start on planning for college. See which other tests your high school junior may need to take.
- Discuss taking challenging courses next year. Taking honors courses or college-level courses like Advanced Placement as a senior can help your child prepare for college work — and these are also the courses that college admission officers like to see. Learn more about advanced classes.

WINTER (CONTINUED)

- Encourage your junior to consider taking SAT Subject Tests™. Many colleges require or recommend taking these tests to get a sense of your child's skills in a certain academic area. In general, it's best to take a Subject Test right after taking the relevant course. Learn more about SAT Subject Tests.
- Encourage your child to take AP® Exams. If your 11th-grader takes AP or other advanced classes, have him or her talk with teachers now about taking these tests in May. Read more about the AP Program.

SPRING

- Search together for colleges that meet your child's needs. Once you have an idea of the qualities your child is looking for in a college, help him or her enter these criteria into College Search to create a list of colleges to which he or she should consider applying.
- Help your child research scholarships. This form of financial aid provides money for college that doesn't need to be repaid. Learn more through the College Board's Scholarship Search.
- Attend college fairs and financial aid events. These events allow you to meet with college representatives and get answers to questions. Your child can ask the school counselor how to find events in your area. Check out the College Fair Checklist for more information.
- Help your child make summer plans. Summer is a great time to explore interests and learn new skills — and colleges look for students who pursue meaningful summer activities. Help your high school student look into summer learning programs or find a job or internship.
- Visit colleges together. Make plans to check out the campuses of colleges in which your child is interested. Use the Campus Visit Checklist to learn how to get the most out of these experiences.
- Remind your child, if they are a student-athlete, to ask the school counselor at the end of the year to send or upload their transcript to the NCAA Eligibility Center. If your child took classes at more than one high school or program, an official transcript must be submitted for each school.

Frequently Asked Questions

Why should students take the PSAT/NMSQT® or the PSAT™ 10?

The PSAT/NMSQT or the PSAT 10 offer great preparation for the SAT®.

Students who take the PSAT/NMSQT in 11th grade and meet other program entry requirements may enter the National Merit® Scholarship Program. They may also qualify for other programs such as the National Hispanic Recognition Program. For more information, see your student's counselor.

Students who take the PSAT/NMSQT or the PSAT 10 will receive both an online score report at studentscores.collegeboard.org and an official paper score report. They will receive an overall test score (320–1520) as well as individual section scores, test scores, cross-test scores, and subscores. Students will be able to see which answers they got right or wrong. They will also receive information on how to improve their academic skills.

Students will receive free, personalized, online SAT practice recommendations on Khan Academy, which can be used to prepare for both PSAT/NMSQT and PSAT 10 because of the close alignment of the tests.

Who should take the PSAT/NMSQT?

Typically, students take the PSAT/NMSQT in grade 11 of high school. Younger students can also take the test or the PSAT 10 to get a head start on improving skills and knowledge needed for success in college and career.

How many times may a student take each test?

Only once a year, but there is no limit to how many years a student may participate. It is important that 11th-grade students take the PSAT/NMSQT to enter the National Merit Scholarship Program and to get SAT practice.

What should be done to prepare for the test?

Classroom learning is the basis for test questions, so the best way students can prepare is by taking challenging courses and becoming familiar with the test and its format. Students should review the Official Student Guide, along with the practice test for the test they are taking to help them understand all the directions and be familiar with the types of questions that will be asked. In addition, students who take the practice test can go to collegeboard.org/psatpractice for free, personalized practice based on their practice test results, which can be used to prepare for the SAT, the PSAT/NMSQT, or the PSAT 10.

If students don't do well on the test, will it hurt their chances of getting into college?

Absolutely not. If anything, the test will improve their chances, since it provides personalized information on the types of skills that the student needs to improve to prepare for the SAT and college. PSAT/NMSQT and PSAT 10 scores are not sent to colleges.

What is Student Search Service®, and should students choose to participate?

When students take the PSAT/NMSQT or PSAT 10, they are asked if they would like to participate in the College Board's Student Search Service, a free service that provides names of students to certified educational organizations. If students choose to participate, they allow colleges, universities, scholarship programs, and educational opportunity organizations to send information about the educational and financial aid opportunities they offer. Beginning with the 2015 administration, students who opt in to Student Search Service will increase their access to nearly $180 million in combined annual scholarship awards. Student information is strictly monitored and secure, and individual test scores are never shared with any outside entity.

How Your Child Can Do Their Best on the SAT®

Start Early

Students should start practicing the skills that are the most important for college readiness as early as possible. If students begin six months before the test, they should have time to work on strengthening some of their skills that need the most work and to become familiar with the test format.

Practice Consistently

Students who practice regularly tend to improve their college readiness skills at faster rates than those students who don't practice. Consider encouraging your child to practice at least 30 minutes a day, two times a week, based on their personalized plan from Official SAT Practice on Khan Academy (satpractice.org).

Work Hard

The SAT is aligned to what students are already learning in class, so the most important thing your child can do is take and commit to challenging courses, along with working hard on Official SAT Practice.

Mix Up Their Practice

In addition to taking advantage of Official SAT Practice, make sure your child studies by reading and summarizing both fiction and nonfiction passages from a variety of sources, creating and solving word problems, and reading editorial content to review argument construction.

For more information, visit satpractice.org.

SAT Subject Tests™

SAT Subject Tests™ can help you stand out from other college applicants. There are 20 nationally recognized subject-based tests in five areas. They help you get a head start on your future goals by showcasing your academic strengths.

Many of today's careers require science and math skills, and SAT Subject Tests can help you show colleges you're focused on them. Some schools also require applicants to submit two Subject Test scores as part of the admission process.

THE ACT MEASURES WHAT MATTERS

It's the link between high school curriculum and college performance.

The ACT assesses the skills students should be learning every day, with research-backed alignment among:

- What schools teach
- What we measure
- Student performance in college courses

Accepted by All US Colleges

The ACT is accepted for admission to all colleges and universities in the United States, including all Ivy League schools.

No Penalty for Guessing

ACT scores are based on the correct number of answers, with no deduction for incorrect answers. Tell your students to do their best, and to answer every question.

Curriculum Based

ACT test questions are directly related to what students learn in most of their high school courses. Because the ACT is based on high school curriculum, students may feel more comfortable taking the ACT.

Many ways to prepare

The best way to prepare for the test is to take challenging courses in high school and study hard. Encourage your students to become familiar with the test before they take it. ACT provides many free resources, including practice questions, testing tips, complete practice tests, and more at actstudent.org.

Optional writing test

Since not all colleges and universities require a writing test for admission, ACT allows students to choose whether to take the writing test. Students can check if schools they are interested in require the ACT writing test by visiting actstudent.org/writing.

Major and career exploration information

The ACT gives students valuable information to help them plan for life after high school. Students receive a list of majors and occupations to look into based on their interests or careers they are considering. Through exploration, students find occupations they might otherwise have missed. Visit actstudent.org/career for more information about using these results.

Standards based

The ACT aligns with the ACT College and Career Readiness Standards, which help students understand what their scores mean. Students can see how prepared they are for college by comparing their scores to the ACT College Readiness Benchmark scores. The Benchmarks, based on ACT test scores and actual college performance of students, are measures that show the likelihood of college success in a subject if students score at or above the Benchmark.

A Planning List for Parents of Ninth- and 10th-Graders

It may seem early to start thinking about getting your child ready for college, but it really isn't — important groundwork should take place in ninth and 10th grades. Here's a list to help you make sure your child is on the right path.

GRADE 9

- 1. Create a four-year high school plan. Once your child is settled into ninth grade, introduce the idea of preparing an overall plan for high school that relates to their goals.
  - Make sure you and your child know what high school courses are required by colleges, and that their ninth-grade courses are on the right track.
  - Map out when these courses should be taken.
  - Familiarize yourself with the various levels of courses offered by your child's school.
- 2. Tell your child to start thinking about careers. Encourage your child to develop a tentative career goal. Of course it will change — often — but it's the thought process that counts.
  - Help your child to identify interests — likes and dislikes — not just in academics but in all areas. This will help your child focus on goals.
  - Encourage your child to discuss career options with others, such as the school counselor, teachers, recent college graduates who are working, professionals in the community, etc.
- 3. Suggest extracurricular activities. Encourage your child to actively take part in a sport, school club, music or drama group, or community volunteer activity.
  - If your child may want to play sports in college, research the National College Athletic Association eligibility requirements. The NCAA requires completion of certain core courses; you can find the specifics at www.eligibilitycenter.org.

- 4. Meet with the school counselor. The school counselor knows how to help your child get the most out of high school. Make sure your child has an opportunity during the school year to discuss post-high-school plans with the school counselor and map out courses to take during the rest of high school.
  - You should participate in this meeting, too.
- 5. Ask if the PSAT 8/9™ is offered to ninth-graders. The PSAT 8/9 will help you and your child's teachers figure out what your child needs to work on the most so that they're ready for college when they graduate from high school. It tests the same skills and knowledge as the SAT®, PSAT/NMSQT®, and PSAT™ 10 — in a way that makes sense for their grade level.
- 6. Save for college. It's still not too late to start a college savings plan, if you haven't already. Every little bit helps!
  - Investigate state financial aid programs and 529 plans.
- 7. Obtain a Social Security number for your child if you don't already have one. This is often required for applications, testing, scholarships, and other opportunities.

GRADE 10

1. Meet with the school counselor — again. Make sure your child meets with their school counselor to ensure that she or he is enrolled in college-preparatory courses.
  - Check to see that your child is taking any prerequisites to advanced-level junior- and senior-year courses.
2. Ask if the PSAT 10 or PSAT/NMSQT is offered to 10th-graders. While the PSAT/NMSQT is usually taken in the 11th grade, it is also often offered in the 10th. That's because it provides invaluable feedback on the student score report; 10th-graders can then work on any disclosed academic weaknesses while there is still ample time to improve them.
3. Is your child interested in attending a U.S. military academy? If so, they should request a precandidate questionnaire and complete it. Your school counselor can help with this.
4. Attend college and career fairs. These often take place in the fall at your school or in your area.
5. Support your child's participation in a school activity or volunteer effort. Extracurricular activities help students develop time-management skills and enrich the school experience.
6. Tour college campuses. If possible, take advantage of vacation or other family travel opportunities to visit colleges and see what they're like.
  - Even if there is no interest in attending the college you are visiting, it will help your child learn what to look for in a college.

Family Action Plan: 11th Grade

Junior year usually marks a turning point. This is because for most students and families, it's when college planning activities kick into high gear. Here are some things you can do this year to support your child and give him or her the best options.

FALL

- Make sure your child meets with the school counselor. This meeting is especially important this year as your 11th-grader starts to engage in the college application process. Learn more about the counselor's role in applying to college.
- Help your child stay organized. Work with your 11th-grader to make weekly or monthly to-do lists to keep on top of the tasks required to get ready for applying to colleges. For more time management tips, see 8 Ways to Take Control of Your Time.

- Encourage your child to set goals for the school year. Working toward specific goals helps your high school student stay motivated and focused.

WINTER

- Review PSAT/NMSQT results together by logging in to the student score reporting portal. Your child's score report shows what they should work on to get ready for college; lists Advanced Placement® courses that might be a good match for them; and connects them to free, personalized SAT practice on Khan Academy® based on their results.
- Help your child prepare for the SAT. Many juniors take the SAT in the spring so they can get a head start on planning for college. See which other tests your high school junior may need to take.
- Discuss taking challenging courses next year. Taking honors courses or college-level courses like Advanced Placement as a senior can help your child prepare for college work — and these are also the courses that college admission officers like to see. Learn more about advanced classes.

- Encourage your junior to consider taking SAT Subject Tests™. Many colleges require or recommend taking these tests to get a sense of your child's skills in a certain academic area. In general, it's best to take a Subject Test right after taking the relevant course. Learn more about SAT Subject Tests.
- Encourage your child to take AP® Exams. If your 11th-grader takes AP or other advanced classes, have him or her talk with teachers now about taking these tests in May. Read more about the AP Program.

SPRING

- Search together for colleges that meet your child's needs. Once you have an idea of the qualities your child is looking for in a college, help him or her enter these criteria into College Search to create a list of colleges to which he or she should consider applying.
- Help your child research scholarships. This form of financial aid provides money for college that doesn't need to be repaid. Learn more through the College Board's Scholarship Search.
- Attend college fairs and financial aid events. These events allow you to meet with college representatives and get answers to questions. Your child can ask the school counselor how to find events in your area. Check out the College Fair Checklist for more information.
- Help your child make summer plans. Summer is a great time to explore interests and learn new skills — and colleges look for students who pursue meaningful summer activities. Help your high school student look into summer learning programs or find a job or internship.
- Visit colleges together. Make plans to check out the campuses of colleges in which your child is interested. Use the Campus Visit Checklist to learn how to get the most out of these experiences.
- Remind your child, if they are a student-athlete, to ask the school counselor at the end of the year to send or upload their transcript to the NCAA Eligibility Center. If your child took classes at more than one high school or program, an official transcript must be submitted for each school.

Preguntas más frecuentes

¿Por qué los estudiantes deben presentar el PSAT10™ o el PSAT/NMSQT™?

El PSAT/NMSQT o el PSAT 10 constituyen una excelente preparación para el SAT®.

Los estudiantes que presentan el PSAT/NMSQT en el 11º grado y cumplen con los otros requisitos para ingresar al programa pueden presentarse para el National Merit® Scholarship Program (Programa Nacional de Becas por Mérito). También pueden ser candidatos para otros programas como el National Hispanic Recognition Program (Programa Nacional de Reconocimiento Hispano). Para mayor información, visite al consejero de su estudiante.

Los estudiantes que presenten el PSAT/NMSQT o el PSAT 10 recibirán un informe de calificaciones en línea en studentscores.collegeboard.org y también un informe de calificaciones oficial impreso. Recibirán una calificación global del examen (320 – 1520) y calificaciones de secciones específicas, de exámenes, de otras materias incluidas en los exámenes y de secciones parciales. Los estudiantes podrán ver qué respuestas contestaron correcta e incorrectamente. También recibirán información sobre su rendimiento en destrezas académicas específicas.

Los estudiantes recibirán sugerencias para una práctica del SAT en línea, gratis y personalizada a través de la Khan Academy que les servirá para prepararse para el PSAT/NMSQT y el PSAT 10 debido al paralelismo entre los exámenes.

¿Quién debe presentar el PSAT/NMSQT?

Usualmente, los estudiantes presentan el PSAT/NMSQT cuando cursan el Grado 11 de la preparatoria. Los estudiantes más jóvenes también pueden presentar el PSAT 10 para adelantar en el desarrollo de las destrezas académicas que se requieren para tener éxito en las universidades y en las profesiones.

¿Cuántas veces puede un estudiante presentar este examen?

Solo una vez al año, pero no hay un límite al número de años en los que el estudiante puede participar. Es importante que los estudiantes de 11º grado presenten el PSAT/NMSQT para ingresar al National Merit Scholarship Program y practicar para el SAT.

¿Qué se debe hacer para prepararse para el examen?

El aprendizaje en el salón de clases es el fundamento de las preguntas del examen, por tanto, la mejor manera de prepararse es tomar cursos más difíciles y familiarizarse con el examen y su formato. Los estudiantes deben revisar la Official Student Guide (Guía oficial del estudiante) y el examen de práctica para el examen que van tomar. Esto los ayudará a comprender todas las instrucciones y a familiarizarse con el tipo de preguntas que tendrán que responder. Además, si presentan el examen de práctica, los estudiantes pueden ingresar gratis a collegeboard.org/psatpractice y obtener una práctica personalizada basada en los resultados de su examen de práctica. Los estudiantes pueden usar esta práctica para prepararse para el SAT, el PSAT/NMSQT o el PSAT 10.

Consejos e información para los padres

1 Anime a su hijo(a) a inscribirse y enlazar sus cuentas del College Board y Khan Academy. Cuando su hijo(a) enlace las cuentas recibirá recomendaciones de prácticas personalizadas, basadas en sus resultados en las pruebas del SAT®, el PSAT/NMSQT® y otras pruebas del College Board.

2 Ayude a su hijo(a) a desarrollar un plan de práctica personalizado en satpractice.org. Después de que su hijo(a) se inscriba y enlace sus cuentas, diríjase al video que se encuentra en la sección "Consejos y planificación" para conocer más sobre "Official SAT Practice". La plataforma creará un plan personalizado de estudio, según las destrezas que domina y las que debe reforzar o mejorar. En la pestaña de "Práctica", su hijo(a) encontrará recomendaciones para las áreas de Matemáticas y de Lectura y Redacción.

La mejor manera para prepararse para el SAT® también es gratuita.

3 Anime a su hijo(a) a tomar la versión completa de un examen de práctica del SAT. El College Board recomienda que los estudiantes tomen al menos dos pruebas de práctica completas. Asegúrese de que su hijo(a) tome un examen de práctica antes de comenzar su plan de estudio, y tome una segunda prueba, cinco semanas después, para medir su progreso. Acceda a sat.org/scoring para descargar e imprimir pruebas de práctica.

4 Descargue la aplicación móvil de práctica diaria para el nuevo SAT, disponible a través de Google Play y iTunes App. La aplicación proporciona diariamente una pregunta que su hijo(a) puede utilizar para desarrollar sus habilidades. También escanea y califica las pruebas de práctica del SAT, una forma sencilla de seguir su progreso.

Cómo su hijo(a) puede obtener mejores resultados en el nuevo SAT

Aprenda sobre el nuevo SAT

Asegúrese de que estudie la estructura revisada, el contenido actualizado de la prueba y el puntaje. Visite sat.org para más información.

Comience temprano

Los estudiantes deben comenzar su práctica al menos seis meses antes de tomar el examen para así establecer un punto de comparación y poder medir su progreso.

Practique a menudo

Anime a su hijo(a) a que practique un mínimo de treinta minutos al día, dos veces a la semana, siguiendo el plan personalizado que encontrará en satpractice.org.

Dé su mayor esfuerzo

El nuevo SAT se alinea con el material que estudia su hijo(a) en clase, por lo que, además de su esfuerzo al realizar las prácticas del "Official SAT Practice", lo más importante que su hijo(a) puede hacer es tomar cursos académicamente exigentes.

Combine distintos tipos de práctica

Además de aprovecharse del "Official SAT Practice", asegúrese de que su hijo(a) practique también la lectura y el resumen de textos explicativos, la creación y solución de problemas verbales y la lectura de contenido editorial para revisar el desarrollo de argumentos.

Start Early

Students should start practicing the skills that are the most important for college readiness as early as possible. If students begin six months before the test, they should have time to work on strengthening some of their skills that need the most work and to become familiar with the test format.

Practice Consistently

Students who practice regularly tend to improve their college readiness skills at faster rates than those students who don't practice. Consider encouraging your child to practice at least 30 minutes a day, two times a week, based on their personalized plan from Official SAT Practice on Khan Academy (satpractice.org).

Work Hard

The SAT is aligned to what students are already learning in class, so the most important thing your child can do is take and commit to challenging courses, along with working hard on Official SAT Practice.

Mix Up Their Practice

In addition to taking advantage of Official SAT Practice, make sure your child studies by reading and summarizing both fiction and nonfiction passages from a variety of sources, creating and solving word problems, and reading editorial content to review argument construction.

For more information, visit satpractice.org.

SAT Subject Tests™

SAT Subject Tests™ can help you stand out from other college applicants. There are 20 nationally recognized subject-based tests in five areas. They help you get a head start on your future goals by showcasing your academic strengths.

Many of today's careers require science and math skills, and SAT Subject Tests can help you show colleges you're focused on them. Some schools also require applicants to submit two Subject Test scores as part of the admission process.

THE ACT MEASURES WHAT MATTERS

It's the link between high school curriculum and college performance.

The ACT assesses the skills students should be learning every day, with research-backed alignment among:

- What schools teach
- What we measure
- Student performance in college courses

Accepted by All US Colleges

The ACT is accepted for admission to all colleges and universities in the United States, including all Ivy League schools.

No Penalty for Guessing

ACT scores are based on the correct number of answers, with no deduction for incorrect answers. Tell your students to do their best, and to answer every question.

Curriculum Based

ACT test questions are directly related to what students learn in most of their high school courses. Because the ACT is based on high school curriculum, students may feel more comfortable taking the ACT.

Many ways to prepare

The best way to prepare for the test is to take challenging courses in high school and study hard. Encourage your students to become familiar with the test before they take it. ACT provides many free resources, including practice questions, testing tips, complete practice tests, and more at actstudent.org.

Optional writing test

Since not all colleges and universities require a writing test for admission, ACT allows students to choose whether to take the writing test. Students can check if schools they are interested in require the ACT writing test by visiting actstudent.org/writing.

Major and career exploration information

The ACT gives students valuable information to help them plan for life after high school. Students receive a list of majors and occupations to look into based on their interests or careers they are considering. Through exploration, students find occupations they might otherwise have missed. Visit actstudent.org/career for more information about using these results.

Standards based

The ACT aligns with the ACT College and Career Readiness Standards, which help students understand what their scores mean. Students can see how prepared they are for college by comparing their scores to the ACT College Readiness Benchmark scores. The Benchmarks, based on ACT test scores and actual college performance of students, are measures that show the likelihood of college success in a subject if students score at or above the Benchmark.
