From the Director's Desk

It is with great pleasure that I introduce myself as the new director of the Huntington Public Library. Having grown up in East Northport, I feel right at home in the Huntington community and am very happy to be part of the library staff. Previously, I was the Assistant Director at Hauppauge Library and before that, the Head of Youth Services at Half Hollow Hills Community Library. I earned a Bachelor of Science Degree at Geneseo College, a Master of Library Science at Queens College and most recently, a Certificate of Public Library Administration at C.W. Post.

This is a very exciting time for the Library, and I am happy to be part of moving forward to meet the ever-changing needs of our community. We recently held focus groups to ask the community what you wanted from your library and we are busy evaluating those results to see where we can improve. Please watch our newsletter and web-site for updates to this process.

For those of you whom I've met, I thank you for the warm welcome I've already received. For those whom I haven't met, I welcome the opportunity to do so!

Please feel free to contact me at anytime at 631-427-5165, ext. 206, or via email at joanne_adam@thehuntingtonlibrary.org.

~ Joanne Adam, Library Director

Exploring the Future of Your Public Library!

We received very positive feedback for conducting these groups and are in the process of analyzing the results now. We are planning to use this information to improve our services and facility so that we may better meet the needs of the community. Please watch the newsletter or our website for more information as we move forward. Thank you for your interest in the continued success of the Huntington Public Library.

The Friends Board has been busy spending the money we raised at our book sales! The amount of $1,000 has been pledged to each of the following upcoming programs: Jolly Beggars and Pedro Cortes (see page 5 for details). We have pledged another $1,000 to a program to be held at the Station Branch later in the Spring. If there is a particular program you would like to see at the library, please let us know by email at friends@thehuntingtonlibrary.org, or by leaving a note with the Circulation desk at the Main branch of the library and we will try to make it happen.

Books donated by Huntington Library patrons are being sent around the world. During the year 2014, the Friends were able to ship 230 books to military personnel through Operation Paperback. The most frequent requests were for paperback books on history and classics. Thank you for helping us make this contribution to the U.S. military. Before you bring book donations to the library, please make sure each one is clean and in good condition.**

"A Defence of Poetry"

by Percy Bysshe Shelley (1792-1922)

Monday, March 23

April is National Poetry Month, and Shelley, one of the greatest of the English Romantic Poets ("Prometheus Unbound," "Ode to the West Wind"), offers a spirited defense of the imaginative side of human nature. The essay also underlines the philosophical value of poetry, however: "Shakespeare, Dante, and Milton (to confine ourselves to modern writers) are philosophers of the loftiest power." Shelley also offers the opinion that "Poetry is the record of the best and happiest moments of the happiest and best minds."

"The Pardoner's Tale"

from The Canterbury Tales

by Geoffrey Chaucer (d. 1400)

Monday, April 27

Chaucer is considered the towering figure in English literature before Shakespeare. He was a well-traveled government official who visited Italy and became familiar with the works of Dante and Boccaccio. "The Pardoner's Tale," from his masterpiece The Canterbury Tales, is a tale of the self-defeating consequences of greed told by a seller of indulgences and relics. Can such an individual convincingly tell a moral tale about the very same vices of which he is guilty? We'll try to answer this question ... or at least have fun trying! Please note this is a make-up for the program that was snowed out in January.

DOCUMENTARY FILM DISCUSSIONS

Fridays at 6:30 pm • Auditorium (HMA653)

CELEBRATING WOMEN'S HISTORY MONTH

"My connection to the past, like any historian's, is through the stuff that's left behind. It's about documents, sources, clues, the leavings, shards, remnants of people who once lived and don't live anymore. Without documents, there's no history. And women left very few documents behind." (Laurel Thatcher Ulrich, Historian)

A Midwife's Tale: 18th Century America Through a Woman's Eyes - March 20 (NR) (88 mins) (1997)

An innovative dramatic film based on the Pulitzer Prize-winning story of Martha Ballard, a midwife and mother living in the wilds of Maine during the chaotic decades following the American Revolution. In a diary, Ballard recorded her daily struggle against poverty, disease, domestic abuse and social turmoil. Two hundred years later, her world is painstakingly recreated by an historian seeking to understand eighteenth century America through a woman's eyes.

Discussion Moderator Bonney Schaub is a board-certified, advanced practice nurse-psychotherapist, educator, co-founder of the Huntington Meditation and Imagery Center, and author, who is committed to the nurse's role in bringing mind-body-spirit practices fully into health care.

The Endurance: Shackleton's Legendary Antarctic Expedition - April 24 (G) (97 mins) (2000)

In 1914, under the leadership of Sir Ernest Shackleton, 27 men set sail from England in the wooden ship Endurance with plans to land on the Antarctic Continent and dogsled across the frozen landmass to the other side via the South Pole. The vessel becomes entrapped in ice, is crushed and sinks. Stranded on drifting floes, out of contact with the world, Shackleton and his men endure a grueling, 800-mile voyage back to civilization. Based on the book by Caroline Alexander.

Discussion Moderator Susanne Byrnes has produced and directed several long form, nationally aired cultural and medical documentaries for PBS.
